Insurance costs prompt hiring

City seeks to control expenses

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

In an effort to control escalating insurance premiums and to avoid the immediate threat of removal from a state insurance pool, Granite City will soon hire a new safety director.

Mayor Von Dee Cruse said Mitchell Abbott, an adjuster for a local insurance agency, is his first choice from among the more than 70 applicants for the position.

The City Council concurred 10-3 Tuesday with the mayor's selection to fill the vacancy, created when Dick Portell retired from the position last year.

Insurance is reported to be the fastest growing cost to the city over the past six years. Alderman Jeff Worthen said that, while city employee salaries have increased about 20 percent and garbage contracts have escalated 147 percent since 1985, the city's insurance premium has jumped 273 percent in the same time period.

The move to hire a professional to oversee the city's claims and to implement a safety policy is a reaction to those expenses, Cruse said.

Granite City is one of many cities participating in an Illinois Municipal League insurance pool. But the city pays higher premiums and has been threatened with removal from the pool because it is considered a high risk.

Karl Gersbach, a loss control field supervisor for Management Services Inc., the agency contracted by the IML to administer the insurance pool, explained to the council that the city's premium increase is due almost exclusively to its inability to control losses. He said the city "definitely and desperately" needs someone to monitor and control

Leaf program to grow

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Alderman Dan Partney addressed what he called "a burning issue" Tuesday night.

Partney asked that the city consider a continuation of the alternative leaf disposal program implemented last fall. Council members indicated the program will be continued and expanded — in 1992.

The procedure, which allowed residents to deposit their tree leaves at a disposal site for no charge, was established as a reaction to a ban on leaf burning in the city.

The only other alternative is to pay a private waste hauler to take the yard waste away, Partney said.

While administrative problems caused some headaches, Alderman Judy Whitaker said the first-year program was well received by the citizenry.

And, she said, plans are being made to

Monster truck driving 'scary'

Local man drives 'Taurus'

By Randy Vaughn
Staff writer

Being the driver of "Taurus," the 1991 grand champion monster truck, is not that much different from a regular job, Jack Willman Jr. says.

The only difference is that his job keeps him away from home in Madison 250 days out of the year, traveling to places like California, Florida and New York.

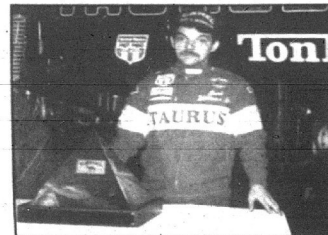

Taurus is an 11-foot-tall, 12-foot-wide, 1,500-horsepower truck with tires that stand six feet in height, allowing it to climb over cars and other obstacles.

Willman has operated Taurus for the last five years, driving, hauling and repairing the monster-size vehicle for many races and demonstrations around the nation.

He and his cousin, Elden Depew, are the drivers of the two identical champion trucks owned by Jack Willman Sr., owner of Taurus Inc. located at 3500 Illinois 162 in Granite City.

"It can get scary flying 10 to 15 feet through the air," Jack Sr. said, adding that it is also exciting.

Forfeitures may pay for drug crackdown

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

Derek Johnson thinks Venice should turn its drug problems over to the dogs.

Johnson, representing K-9 Sentry Consultants of Derron's Kennels, told the City Council his firm could provide the city with the services of dogs trained to sniff out narcotics and "it wouldn't cost the city a dime."

Under the Illinois forfeiture laws, Johnson said, 90 percent of the assets forfeited in a drug arrest go to the department making the arrest.

He said his firm, which trains certified narcotics dogs and handlers, would work with the Venice Police Department on a consignment-style basis and only be paid when a forfeiture had been made.

"These guys have jewels, money, fancy cars and houses and all of them can be forfeited," Johnson said.

"We could be talking $100,000, $200,000, even $500,000 turned over to the department."

"What I'm talking about is using the drug dealers' money to fight drugs. I don't know about you, but I like the idea of using illegal money to fight crime. I think this would be a great way of fighting crime in the community."

Johnson said he has no doubts about the program paying big benefits for both the city and his firm.

"Everyone knows the McKinley Bridge is the major gateway for drugs coming into Illinois," he said. "Some of those drugs end up in Venice and Madison, but they're going all over the state. If you had a dog, you could find them."

Pontoon Beach approves nature trail endorsement

By Randy Vaughn
Staff writer

Acquisition and further development of the Vandalia Nature Trail is a good idea, Pontoon Beach Village officials said Tuesday night.

The village board by a 5-1 vote approved a resolution supporting the efforts of trail advocates headed by George Arnold of Edwardsville.

A cooperative intergovernmental approach is proposed, with coordination by the Southwestern Illinois Planning Commission.

The 12-mile trail, which follows abandoned Norfolk and Southern Railroad tracks (a former Illinois Terminal right-of-way) from Edwardsville toward Granite City, is currently owned by the railroad, which is interested in selling the property.

"Nature trails are wonderful ways to provide access to the outdoors for horses, bicyclists, hikers and other non-motorized transportation," Richard Gilpin, a volunteer, said at the board meeting.

The trail was pioneered more than 20 years ago by Madison County. A developed portion extends nine miles from Edwardsville to Pontoon Beach. The hope is to extend its development three more miles to Granite City.

Gilpin said that, on the south end of the village, the trail runs for about one mile parallel to Illinois Highway 162 and for a few hundred feet through the south side of Interstate 270.

One portion of the trail is being actively used, Gilpin said.

— Louis Whitsell
Opposes resolution

It runs east of Bluff Road into Edwardsville through the south side of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville campus. A section from Bluff Road to Pontoon Beach is used less actively.

Madison County has been leasing the trail from the railroad for a few dollars a year since 1968. The county developed the trail for resident bicyclists and hikers but has been reluctant to provide an estimated $185,000 needed to purchase and further improve the land, Gilpin said.

GCHS graduation is set for May 29th

Graduation day for Granite City High School seniors will be May 29th — rain or shine, officials say.

School officials will make preparations inside (in the gymnasium) and outside (on the football field), Superintendent Gib Walmsley said. The final decision as to the graduation site will be determined by the weather, school officials said.

The Granite City School Board approved the date at its meeting on Tuesday upon the recommendation of high school principal Dave Painter.

Painter recommended the May 29th date after discussions with the high school administrative staff, but he was not without concerns.

The May 29th date will conflict with the state track and boys' tennis tournaments also scheduled for the 29th.

"We believe that it is possible that three to four seniors may qualify to participate in the state track and tennis tournaments," Painter said. Senior athletes will be recognized even if they are forced to miss the ceremony, he said.

The girls' State Soccer Tournament conflicted with graduation for a few days, but the number of girls to miss the 1991 graduation.

This year the sectional tournament is May 30 and June 1. Nevertheless, the weather could still have an impact on the schedule, Painter said.

"We are still concerned that we may have to use snow-days, which would lessen the amount of time our seniors would be in school," Painter said, adding that three to five used snow-days could cause a problem. "But I don't expect a problem with the winter weather we have had."

The seniors last day of school will be May 27th, while Senior Recognition Day will be May 28th. The board approved both dates on Tuesday.

The tentative closing date for all students excluding seniors is June 11. The final school calendar has not been approved to date, Painter said.

Trail

Volunteers have approached area governmental units, including the Edwardsville City Council and Township Board, Nameoki Township, the Granite City Park District and Pontoon Beach, seeking their support.

Governmental involvement is considered essential to qualify for grants of up to 50 percent of the cost. Reimbursement is offered by the Illinois Department of Conservation Bikeway Program to local units of government for purchase and development.

"We have a chance for some unit of government to acquire the trail without a significant procurement cost," a written report by volunteer trail chairman Arnold said.

"What is needed is for some unit of government to file this application."

The government that applies for the grant would take responsibility for ownership and for a maintenance agreement that would be signed with service clubs or volunteers at a later time.

Projected costs for acquisition and development of the trail are $102,500 for the city of Edwardsville's 5.3-mile portion, from Market Basket to Interstate 270; $2,000 from Edwardsville Township for a 1.6-mile stretch extending from Interstate 270 to Interstate 255; $50,500 from Nameoki Township for a 3.4-mile section from Interstate 255 to Long Lake to Lake Drive and to Mockingbird Lane; and $30,000 from the Granite City Park District for a 1.7-mile distance extending from Mockingbird Lane to Maryville Road and to Washington Avenue.

No cost was estimated for the village of Pontoon Beach. No breakdown was given on how much of the $185,000 total would go for the land purchase and how much for development costs.

Board Member Louis Whitsell voted against the resolution. He was chairman of the Madison County parks and recreation committee when the trail was initially developed.

"I would like to see it rebuilt, but would not want to saddle the village with something that should be a county-financed project," he said. "We cannot afford joint management."

Whitsell recommended dropping references to joint sponsorship and joint management in the resolution and replacing it with a decision to participate. The revision did not receive a second from other board members.

Volunteers have voiced hope that the trail can become part of a network from Collinsville and Edwardsville westward to the Mississippi River levee, up to Alton, crossing the river and extending all the way to Sedalia, Mo., and possibly Kansas City.

site, Whitaker said. A county grant may pay $25,000 for a vacuum-type truck which would then haul the leaves away, Whitaker said.

Alderman Walter Milton, chairman of the Finance Committee, asked what the program will cost the city.

Whitaker said wages for two city employees — one from the street department and one from sanitation — who will run the leaf vacuum will be the only cost to the city.

The location of the facilities has not yet been determined, Whitaker said. She commended the street and sanitation departments for their cooperation in helping implement the proposed program.

Recycling program revised

Because a glut in materials has adversely affected the market for recyclables, Granite City has been forced to limit the materials it will collect from residents participating in the city recycling program.

The city will be accepting aluminum, clear glass and clear plastic only during its curbside pickup next week.

Plastic accepted will be limited to one-, two- and three-liter bottles and milk containers. No plastic baggies will be collected.

Residents are being urged to remove lids and labels from all glass and plastic containers prior to setting them out for regular monthly pickup.

At this meeting, plans will be formulated to make this year's parade bigger and better than last year's, which organizers called a huge success.

Representatives from all veterans, fraternal, civic, religious, union, business and youth organizations are being encouraged to attend.

The second annual Quad-City Flag Day parade is scheduled for Sunday, June 14.

For more information, persons may contact DAV Auxiliary Commander Mary Scarsdale at 451-9626 or Jim Taylor, chaplain, Madison VFW Post 7451, at 931-4504.

ing that his vote was no reflection on the selection of Abbott.

Aldermen Paul Fisk, Casmer Skubish, Judy Whitaker, Jim Miller, Walter Milton, Andy Timko, Tom Candler, Juanita Crawley, Sandy Crites and Worthen voted to concur with the appointment.

Partney, Dan Brown and Ginny O'Beare, chairman of the council's Insurance Committee, dissented.

Both Brown and O'Beare said they agree with Partney's assessment of department head and cited a hiring freeze as a reason for their votes.

Alderman Craig Tarpoff was unable to attend the meeting.

Canine heartworm disease is spread by mosquitoes. Every dog is a potential victim. If left untreated, heartworm disease can result in the death of your dog due to the damage it causes to the heart, lungs and other organs.

Signs of heartworm disease include a chronic cough, loss of appetite, weight loss and fatigue. However, these signs do not appear until the disease is well advanced. Sudden death can occur without any warning.

A simple blood test — once a year — can diagnose this disease. If your dog is free of heartworms, then a once a month treatment can protect your dog from heartworms for the rest of the year. The preventative is safe, affordable and easy to handle.

Eugene M. Uhlis, 58, of the 2200 block of East 25th Street was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and improper backing on Feb. 23. Steven Freese, 25, of the 1300 block of Carr Street said his vehicle was stopped at railroad tracks at Edwardsville Road waiting for a train to go by. Uhlis' pickup truck, which was unable to turn around, began backing up and allegedly struck Freese's car.

Arrested at Kirkpatrick

Granite City police responded to a disturbance report Feb. 21 at the apartment of Larry D. Turner, 36, of the 1600 block of Kirkpatrick Homes. Upon arrival, police said they saw Turner fleeing and later found him hiding under a red pickup truck in a parking lot in the 1700 block of Kirkpatrick. Turner was charged with prowling and was released.

Two arrested at home

Cindy J. Wise, 27, and Julie J. Ponder, 29, both of the 2100 block of East 24th Street, were charged with disorderly conduct Feb. 20. The two allegedly had been fighting in their apartment.

Program would put potential county jail prisoners to work

Petty offenders willing to join a work crew might escape time behind bars.

Madison County officials are seeking a grant to ease jail overcrowding by allowing offenders to provide the muscle and sweat for public-service projects rather than serve a jail term.

"The beautiful part of it is that it would save some space and some expenses at the jail," Sheriff Bob Churchich said.

The County Jail this week had 160 male and six female prisoners, which is about the intended capacity, officials said.

Because the jail is often overcrowded, the county is eligible to apply for a Sheriff's Work Alternative Program (SWAP) grant from the Illinois Criminal Justice Authority, said Churchich, who learned of the program at a recent seminar.

"It's working great in Adams and Cook counties," he said of the only two Illinois counties with such programs.

Madison County can apply for up to $30,000. The County Board has just approved spending up to $16,667 that would be required for matching funds. There was no indication how long it will be before the county gets word about its proposal.

The money would go to buy a 15-passenger van and to hire an extra jailer to supervise work crews, Churchich said.

In appropriate cases, judges could offer misdemeanor offenders the SWAP program as an alternative to a jail term, Churchich said.

A person sentenced to the program would have to report for work each morning at the jail. "If they fail to show up for work, the next morning there'll be a warrant for their arrest," Churchich said.

Crews could provide labor for litter pickup, weed control, graffiti removal and painting projects, among other tasks.

They would be doing work that otherwise would not get done and would not be taking work from paid public employees, Churchich said.

Madison County Public Defender John Rekowski said the program sounded good.

"It allows (offenders) to spend evenings with their families, and that's a plus," he said. "Contrary to popular belief, most of our clients are not lazy. Sitting around and doing nothing bothers them."

And it would remove some of the burden on taxpayers for the feeding and care of prisoners, he added.

"We'll be getting something out of them, rather than putting something into them."

The program differs from an existing program in which some offenders are ordered to perform public service work as a condition of probation sentences. Those offenders are supervised by the agencies they work for.

Area legislators oppose plan to put limits on welfare aid

By Christopher Knight
Correspondent

Area legislators said a bill to penalize welfare mothers for having another baby actually would punish the wrong person — the baby.

"What about the child?" said Rep. Wyvetter Young, D-East St. Louis. "Are we being fair to the child as a society? Kids have no rights before they are born."

"The proposal sounds good for people paying taxes," said Rep. Monroe Flinn, D-Cahokia, "but the problem is, do we feed kids a third less, or starve them? These are very humanistic decisions we are trying to make."

Sen. Frank Watson, R-Greenview, announced Feb. 11 that he had introduced legislation to prevent more aid to families with dependent children money going to women who have another baby while receiving funds from the program.

"Working families are faced with the economic question of how many children they can afford," Watson said in a news release. "And they determine the size of their family on the number of children they can support."

"Yet, we have a welfare system that rewards people for increasing their family size without regard to how many children they can provide for."

Welfare-rights advocates have criticized Watson's plan, saying it is based on the myth that women make money by having more children. Watson also attacked the proposal, fearing it

"The proposal sounds good for people paying taxes, but the problem is, do we feed kids a third less, or starve them? These are very humanistic decisions we are trying to make."

— Monroe Flinn

punishes women who are raped or who can't take contraceptives for medical reasons.

Watson has said there would be protective measures for women who can't prevent pregnancies.

State figures show that Aid to Families with Dependent Children pays about $250 to a southern Illinois single woman with one child. The woman also may get food stamps and Medicaid.

A woman would be eligible for an average $53 more for each child, up to $577 a month for a parent and seven children.

Flinn said he agrees with Watson's idea in principle, but he thinks family planning and education are the answers to bringing families out of welfare and lowering the rising public-aid costs.

"If we solve the problem in the early days of life, maybe these people can become part of the answer and not part of the problem," Flinn said.

Young said Watson is missing several important welfare issues by addressing just the one related to welfare women having babies.

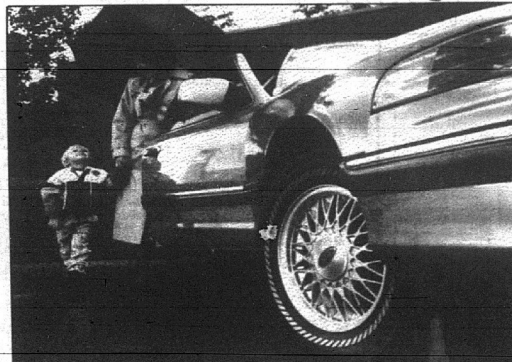

"Women with a child need job training and child care. They need to reorganize to become a privately gainfully employed person with health care insurance," Young said.

"We should be talking about what Americans can do to help families get on in life, not whether a child can come into this world," Young said.

Sen. Kenneth Hall, D-East St. Louis, said the issue unfairly picks on poor people and blacks by implying they are the main welfare problem.

Now There's A Better Way To Travel In The Driving Rain.

Cars were never meant to float, but this is precisely what occurs on a wet road when your tires actually rise up and ride on the water instead of on the pavement. It's called hydroplaning. It's a nightmare. And Goodyear has done something about it.

New AQUATRED radials are designed to give you a measurable advantage over hydroplaning by keeping more tire in contact with the road — thanks to a deep center groove and an intricate web of connecting grooves.

But there's more to the AQUATRED story. A new, longer lasting rubber compound delivers 60,000 miles of warranted treadlife, while an all-season radial design also provides dependable snow traction. Plus, this contemporary sidewall style makes AQUATRED look as good as it performs.

THE LAW AND YOU

By RICK REED
Attorney At Law

It is important to determine which driver is at fault in an automobile accident. Damages for the car and damages for bodily injury to the parties involved in the accident will be awarded based on the comparative negligence of the drivers.

In one recent case, a driver (Driver A) was backing out of his driveway onto a major thoroughfare with Driver B struck him in the rear after A backed out. Driver A sustained neck and back injuries and was taken to the hospital. Driver B hit his head against the windshield and sustained a concussion.

The police came along after the accident and gave A a ticket for improper backing. B received a ticket for speeding, since an independent witness told the police officer that he was exceeding the speed limit.

Driver A felt he should not have received a ticket. He saw nothing improper about the way he backed out of his driveway, and he felt the only reason B struck him from the rear was because B was, in fact, speeding. A appeared in court on his ticket, but the other driver did not show up to testify against A. The police officer who came along after the accident could not testify regarding the accurrence since he did not witness it. Therefore, the charges against A were dismissed.

This was important since a conviction in this case would have been admissible as evidence in later determining the comparative negligence of the parties in a civil case. In this case, B was ultimately determined to be 75% at fault in the accident. Since a jury determined Driver A's damages were $10,000, he was awarded $7,500 based on the comparative fault of the parties.

What lessons can be learned from this example? In the first place, it is extremely important as to how the police officer writes up the accident report. One should talk to the officer at the accident scene and give him his or her version of the events. It is also important to avoid receiving a ticket since this can later impact on the issue of damages to be awarded. Finally, if one is unjustly issued a ticket for a moving violation, that driver should appear in court and fight the charge. A conviction on a moving violation will come back to haunt the driver when a jury is determining who is at fault and awarding damages.

Haitians deserve a chance

When an 82-year-old woman believes in a cause so strongly she is willing to die for it, it is news. When that woman is Katherine Dunham, who has done so much for residents of the Metro East area through her dance troupe and social programs, we believe the cause deserves close consideration whether or not we agree with her methods.

Twenty-five days ago, Dunham vowed to fast until the federal government grants temporary protective status to Haitian refugees who fled their country in the wake of a military takeover of the government.

The federal government began deporting the refugees this month, claiming their flight was based on bad economic conditions and not on a political threat. Furthermore, according to the immigration officials, the Haitians cannot prove they face death or reprisals if they return to Haiti.

If we can put faith in the federal government's ability to accurately read the political implications of foreign revolutions, if we can put faith in its ability to accurately predict the outcome of revolutionary changes in foreign governments, then it's possible to believe the federal government made the right decision in the case of the Haitians.

But, in this century, the federal government dismissed, as exaggeration, the claims of refugees from Stalin's Russia, Hitler's Germany and Pol Pot's Cambodia. In each case, the political dead ultimately numbered in the millions.

In the past few decades, the federal government failed to predict the fall of the shah of Iran, the fall of Ferdinand Marcos of the Philippines and the fall of Eastern Europe and the Soviet Empire.

In the past year, the federal government inaccurately anticipated that Saddam Hussein would fall from power if his forces were driven out of Kuwait and back into Iraq.

With a track record like that, it would be hard to feel comfortable in accepting anything the federal government sees in its crystal ball.

And what of the claim the Haitians are only "economic" refugees? There can be no doubt that poor economic conditions in Haiti played a role in the refugees' decision to leave their homes and families and risk everything to reach the United States.

It is doubtful, however, that a poor employment outlook alone can force such a drastic action. After all, the double-digit unemployed of the Granite City area, whose economic outlook is as bleak as any in memory, haven't boarded boats and gone beating on the shores of Germany or Japan. The idea of them doing so would rightfully be ridiculed.

Finally, there is the question of the refugees not being able to prove that bad things will happen if they return to Haiti. This is a perversion of one of America's most basic principles — the government, with all of its vast resources, must bear the burden of proof. To make an exception in the case of the Haitians, to shift the burden onto the shoulders of the individual, is striking a blow at the very foundation of America.

Katherine Dunham is not asking that America welcome the Haitians as permanent citizens. The Haitians themselves don't want to stay here permanently. What both are asking is that the Haitians be allowed to stay until their safe return home can be assured.

It seems like a simple request, but the federal government's unresponsiveness to the plea has been absolute. Katherine Dunham made her response just as absolute and it has become a battle to the death as she tries to draw attention to the plight of the Haitian refugees.

Maybe to some, Katherine Dunham's death threat smacks of blackmail. Maybe her failing health has unfairly directed sympathy toward her cause. Maybe a hunger strike was a misguided method of calling attention to the plight of the Haitian refugees.

But it worked. And now that it has worked, now that the issue has been spotlighted, we believe the facts make it clear the Haitian refugees deserve a fighting chance.

All it taken from them one is a little more time. Now, it's up to Congress to do the right thing.

Deficit a heavy burden for all

WASHINGTON — "Soon or late, the money to pay the state's mounting bills will have to be found, and there is only one place to look for it," H.L. Mencken wrote in 1897.

"That is the pockets of persons who earn the communal income by doing some sort of useful work."

"Politicians have no idea, and neither do the uplifters. It must always come, in the last analysis, from men who go to work in the morning and labor hard all day."

If Mencken were making that comment today, he would no doubt include a reference to working women as well as men — and probably use the term "social engineers" instead of "uplifters."

Otherwise, his observation remains as biting and pertinent today as when he penned it.

As our national government wanders farther and farther from fiscal reality, piling up debt so massive it can scarcely be imagined, it is tempting to forget uncomfortable truths like the one Mencken cited.

Too easily we entertain futile hopes that some future stroke of legislative legislation will make the national debt disappear overnight. Adrift in fantasy land, we hope against hope that the Congress, the president or the Federal Reserve will wave a magic wand to make all the red ink just disappear.

But fantasies will not spare us our day of reckoning. Sooner or later, all of those IOUs have to be honored. As Mencken pointed out, the money has to come from somewhere, and that somewhere is the pockets of working people.

Business cannot foot the bill. All efforts to pass the buck to business amount to a political con job.

When new taxes are imposed on business, or old ones are raised, business has no option but to redirect the money away from employees and stockholders or raise prices. In effect, business becomes a surrogate tax collector for the government.

Most troubling of all is the sheer magnitude of our red ink, projected to top $360 billion this year. It has reached the point that any effort to rein it in appears puny and ludicrous.

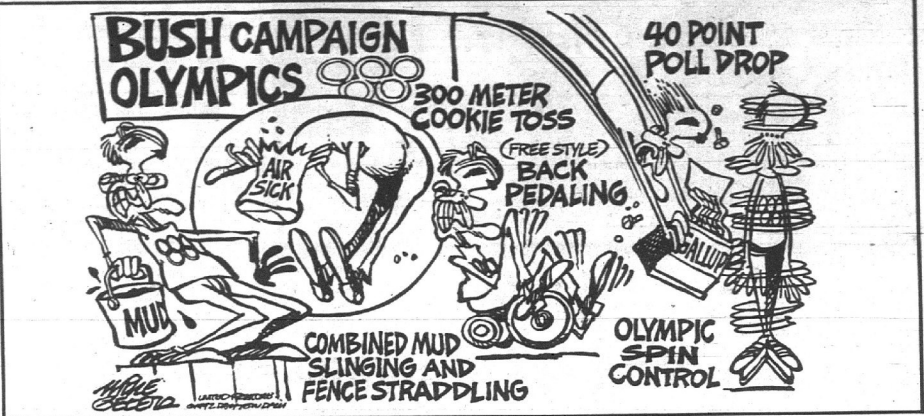

For example, when President Bush recently vetoed a $1 billion measure to extend unemployment benefits as a "budget buster," it set off a round of nervous laughter. No one took the president seriously. What's five or six billion dollars when you're looking at a $360 billion deficit?

We have painted ourselves into a corner. There is no plan either at the White House or in Congress that would even pretend to deal effectively with our fiscal mess.

Our elected representatives seem to have entered a phase of psychological denial.

They go about their business — attending to constituent requests, angling for new " pork barrel " projects for the home folks, debating new laws — as if there were no fiscal calamity afoot.

All of their efforts amount to rearranging the deck chairs on the Titanic.

Says God's will is being ignored

TO THE EDITOR: Physics has never been one of my strong points. In fact, it was the one High School class that I had absolutely no trouble in flunking.

I had one of those progressive instructors that allowed each student to work at his or her own pace. Unfortunately, I needed the old-fashioned baby sitter approach.

In spite of my academic failure, I have somehow retained a nugget of truth pertaining to the physical laws of the universe, namely Newton's third law of motion — "For every action there is an equal and opposite reaction."

Another way of putting it could be, "You reap what you sow" or "What goes around, comes around." Appropriate words for this election year.

Yes, it's that time again. Listen closely; you'll hear it. The grumbling, complaining, bad mouthing, mud slinging.

The United States economy has gone sour and somebody's to blame. It's those darn Republicans, or Democrats, or maybe the Japanese. We blame anyone and everyone, except the real culprit — ourselves. We are to blame.

In 1973, the Supreme Court handed down a decision that has resulted in the death of over 30 million human lives. The Roe vs. Wade case gave women the legal right to kill their offspring, and so the curse begins.

Day after day, year after year, innocent blood cries out to righteous heaven. How could we possibly imagine that this would go unnoticed? It brutally bludgeons the moral fabric of our nation.

Is it any wonder that evil is called good and good evil? That every other marriage ends in divorce? That our schools are floundering, having lost their anchor of morality?

Is it any wonder that crimes of perversity and satanic ritual are on the rise? And yes, that our economy is sliding toward an inevitable depression?

In Granite City, there is a clinic. Just down the road is Granite City Steel, a boon to our economy but having some trouble in months past. Not far from there lies a graveyard of former industry, dead and decaying.

The children die, so does the city. Is this really so far-fetched? If there is a righteous God, a God who has poured out manifold blessings on this nation, isn't it reasonable to conclude that a nation that continually turns from Him will be judged? I'm sure many would agree that, if we are not under judgment already, it certainly is due.

So what do we do? It may sound old-fashioned, but the answer is repent. Let's stop doing what we want and start doing what God wants.

Public service by those on welfare

TO THE EDITOR: Thank goodness we have a place where we can voice our opinions and get some feedback. Laws were made just that way.

They tell me we are in a recession. A few years ago, we got in a similar situation and it was called a depression.

Welfare checks were handed out, but along with those welfare checks were jobs. People are being laid off from good-paying jobs to find that they can only get a minimum-wage job.

If I had it to do over again, I would not work at a low-paying job, either.

I would have gotten food stamps, public aid, a medical card and HUD paying my rent. Why? A person is a fool to work for minimum wage with no insurance benefits, with the high cost of minimum health care.

Nowadays there are a mother and father working to keep up a big mortgage, two cars, two insurances and the upkeep of two cars. Then there are the kids in high school. They have to work to keep up a car and insurance on the car. No wonder the employment situation is like it is.

Too many people in one family are hogging all the jobs, to get by. Two in one family have to work for their kids to go to the best colleges in the country.

People on public aid and food stamps get to go to school free when they come back at part-time jobs for their tuition.

That brings me to the elderly. Too many people are being pushed into nursing homes for the state to take care of. Jobs could be created to take care of the elderly at home.

If some old people had someone to come into their apartments and homes three mornings a week, it would be cheaper to pay them than to pay a month's bill in a nursing home.

People getting food stamps, public aid and HUD paying their rent could take care of the elderly. Men and women alike could work in maintaining the public schools, saving the taxpayers money.

At Ponton Beach we have a wonderful senior citizen hall for the seniors to play bingo in, but there are no recreation facilities for our young people. If you want to play ball, you go into Granite City and play at the park. If you want to play at the district, we have no Little League.

Recently went to a village hall meeting where the mayor said they need a new building to conduct business in, never once thinking about the kids of the people who voted him in.

End quotas, limit taxes and terms

TO THE EDITOR: Illinois voters will now have a guaranteed choice when they go to the polls March 17 to vote for their choice of president of the United States.

The voters who prefer Pat Buchanan must also vote for his delegates to attend the Republican national nominating convention to be held in Houston in August.

Buchanan is dead serious about his campaign against George Bush. He is a real conservative in the tradition of Goldwater, Nixon and Reagan.

For all of those who supported Ronald Reagan, it is time to support Buchanan in this 1992 presidential campaign.

Buchanan is probably the best known of all the candidates because of his 30 years-plus exposure as a news columnist and TV appearances where he has always argued the strong conservative positions.

He is politically active and his service in the White House has given him the experience to lead and serve the people of this nation in these years of crisis.

Let's elect Buchanan. Buchanan stands on the issues: Cut tax rates, veto tax hikes. Buchanan will keep the promise that Bush broke. Remember: "Read my lips, no new taxes."

Bush capitulated to the Democratic-controlled Congress and signed the big tax hike. Buchanan says we must freeze federal spending.

Under Bush, the social spending has soared faster than at any time during the last 60 years. We are running the largest deficits in our history. Bush's newest budget is over $400 billion short. A real disgrace.

Buchanan will promote equal justice for all; quotas in federal agencies and programs will be abolished. The ideas of excellence and merit will be restored.

Buchanan favors limiting the terms of the elected congressmen and suggests we must rescue America from the professional political class and its allied army of lobbyists; cronies and registered agents of influence who control Washington, D.C.

He thinks that, if a great president like Ronald Reagan can serve just eight years, then it should be long enough for a mediocre congressman.

There are fundamental differences between Buchanan and Bush. Bush is a "globalist" promoting "The New World Order," the U.N., the World Bank, the IMF, etc., whereas Buchanan thinks it is time to put America first.

It's time to quit all of this handout of billions of dollars called "foreign aid" that doesn't even work.

We need new leadership of confidence and integrity. We want to make America first again, and keep America first.

We need to revive the old ideas of traditional values, individual responsibility, limited government and economic freedom, if we are to become that great force for good in the world in the 21st century as we were in the 20th.

Let's get involved and vote March 17.

Publication delay disturbs reader

TO THE EDITOR: There have been several occasions that I have brought articles in for publication in the Granite City Press-Record which would be of interest to the local area. In most cases, there has been a delay of six to seven weeks before these articles appear in the paper.

In one instance, I finally called and just canceled an article submitted for my church, which would have been so outdated by the time it would have been printed it would have served no purpose.

I always seem to get the same story when I call, inquiring about an article: "We have a backlog of (graduation-engagement) articles, and only have just so many pages." Then I ask, "Why don't you just run a couple of extra pages and get caught up, instead of making us wait so long for an article to appear?"

I speak for many of us here in the Granite City, Madison and Venice areas. We want a paper which will give us information on our friends, family, etc., and really don't care about some of the other things you publish, which we can read about elsewhere.

Re-elect Miles

TO THE EDITOR: Voters of Madison County Board District 16, voting is not a responsibility to be taken as lightly as choosing your favorite brand of tomato sauce at the grocery store. Nor should voting be approached as a popularity contest.

Being popular and representing the district in the most responsible manner don't always go hand in hand. Smiles, handshakes and pats on the back don't provide constituents with an effective, qualified representative in county government.

On March 17, vote for the Democratic candidate who will continue to represent County Board District 16 in the most reasonable, responsible, and qualified manner — Morris Miles.

Kathy Dohnal covers the Madison-Venice scene for the Press-Record-Journal. She can be contacted at 877-1096.

St. Mary's Day Care observed Valentine's Day with various activities. For breakfast, heart-shaped banana muffins were served. Morning activity consisted of making Valentines for the parents out of red, pink and white construction paper. Gifts for parents were made by stringing red and white beads on pipe cleaners and twisting them into the shape of a heart.

A Valentine exchange was held in the afternoon and refreshments were treats provided by the parents.

Suckers and M&Ms were sent home as gifts from the day care. Children participating were Courtney Dohnal, Jeffrey Tabatha and Lindsey Sipes, Matt Skoklo, James Crain Jr., Kelly Burton and Kendra Byrd. Sue Skoklo is the day care director.

The Old Times Sake Group met for dinner at Brenda's Steak House on Wednesday, Feb. 19. Attending were Kathy Dohnal, Gerry Mendez, Connie Grunpas, Pat Scherrills, Pat Lalich, Mary Firtos.

St. Mary's Activity Committee met on Thursday, Feb. 20, in the basement of the rectory.

President Cathy Cullen called the meeting to order and Sister Bernadette led in prayer. Secretary Doris Brunick read the minutes and Goldie Rozycka gave the treasurer's report.

Plans were made for the annual Chili Supper (Chicken Mulligan also available) on Saturday, March 7, at Engelbert Hall from 4 to 7 p.m. The "all-you-can-eat" ticket is $3.50 for adults and $2 for children 12 and under. Carcarts will be available. A craft table and bake sale will be featured. A concrete painted goose with outfits will be raffled.

The Spring Fling Church Challenge co-ed volleyball tournament will be at Engelbert Hall on April 25. Entry fee is $50 per team (16 years and over) consisting of three girls and three guys.

Plans are being made for the annual picnic to be held on June 19, 20, 21 and the picnic committee is appointing booth chairman.

The next meeting will be March 19.

Others attending were Kathy Dohnal, Alda Yurko, Ed Whitecotton, Celi Kowalczyk, Carol Robertson, Lucille Broadway, Janet Werper and Rosalie Stern.

A sleep-over was held on Valentine's Day for the youth group of St. Mary's Church at Engelbert Hall from 7 p.m. Friday to 10 a.m. Saturday. Games, basketball, ghost stories, etc. filled the evening. A breakfast of pancakes and sausages was served in the morning. A get-well card was signed and sent to Father (See MADISON, Page 6A)

A special day for Leap Year Day babies

Real birthday comes Saturday

By Jennifer Kulier
Correspondent

A 10-year-old is working as an operating engineer at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

There is also a 17-year-old man from Belleville who just recently retired from the carpentry trade.

This may sound strange, even to those who watch "Doogie Howser, M.D." or who have known child prodigies, but it is really fairly common.

For people who were born on Feb. 29, or Leap Year Day, getting teased about being only one-fourth of one's actual age comes with the territory.

Lynn "Steven" Lewis of Granite City (the operating engineer) said he gets some occasional ribbing from people, especially since his son, Eric, celebrated his 10th birthday this year too.

"My wife says she has to put up with two 10-year-olds around the house now," Lewis said.

Lewis, who is actually 40, said although he celebrates his birthday every year on Feb. 28, leap years hold a little more meaning.

"It's more of a special occasion during a leap year. My family takes me out to eat somewhere and we celebrate," he said.

Michael Neff of Belleville (the retired carpenter) said when he was young he felt like he was the only one with a leap-year birthday.

"But then I also thought Michael was an uncommon name. I've come to find out neither is so odd," he said.

Neff said he and his wife celebrate his birthday each year "whenever they can get to it," and that they usually get together with their grandchildren.

Kay Robbins of Collinsville, who is a nurse, and manager of an OB/GYN doctor's office, said it was fun to grow up having a leap-year birthday because her parents always made leap years special.

Robbins enjoyed her birthdays so much as a child that she doesn't mind endorsing the traditions.

"Once a patient in our office was thinking of scheduling her C-section birth on Feb. 29, and she was concerned that it might be terrible for a child to grow up with that birthday. I explained to her that I really liked it because it was so different. So she decided to have her baby on Leap Year Day," Robbins said.

Granite City resident Diane Bast said she has no objections to having a leap-year birthday, but she admits she gets teased a lot.

"People make fun of you sometimes. They'll say 'You're only 6-years-old,' or something like that. But I still get a present every year so I don't mind," Bast said.

Rosemarie Brown of Granite City will celebrate her 13th birthday on Saturday. She said as a child she could never understand why no one was sure when her birthday was, but as an adult she likes the novelty.

"I didn't see it as an advantage as a child, but now on the real day I expect a really nice gift," Brown said.

Other local leap-year babies are: Jack Shankel, Ray Rushing, Ashley Evans, Don Kopp, Caitlin Demaree, Tim Stovall, Eddie Wildermuth, Marc Giedeman, and Lauren Boaz.

others. He was a good man. Kennedy once talked to Khrushchev. Kennedy was elected president in 1960. Kennedy was very popular.

"My father Raymond Malone saw Kennedy at the airport. Kennedy was shot. That is all I know about him. One more thing. Kennedy was good looking and he was nice. Most presidents have favorites, but Kennedy was responsible, nice and faithful."

Leighann Worthon, Granite City "I think George Bush is doing a swell job being president. When we were in war, my family counted on our president. But sure enough our president went out and fought."

"Our president was born June 24, 1924. I figured out that he was 68 years old. But his birthday has not come yet, he is 67. He was born in Milton, Mass. He also has four boys, and one girl. Our vice president is Danforth Quayle."

"George Bush likes fishing a lot. I think me and George both like fishing a lot. And again I think George is doing a good job being president."

Meagan McKeehan, Granite City "Thomas Jefferson is my favorite president because Benjamin Franklin asked Thomas Jefferson to write the Declaration of Independence and he did."

"Thomas Jefferson was born on April 13, 1743 at Shadwell, the family farm in Goochland County, Va."

"Thomas Jefferson was married to Mrs. Martha Jefferson. He was elected president Feb. 17, 1797."

"I really like Thomas Jefferson because if it wasn't for him we would not have the Declaration of Independence."

Lindsay Moore, Granite City

"My favorite president is Abraham Lincoln because he was an honest man. Abe helped end slavery in the nation and helped the American Union from splitting up during the Civil War. Lincoln wrote the Gettysburg Address."

"Lincoln was a very tall and honest man. In fact, he had a nickname—it was 'Honest Abe'. Abe Lincoln was our sixteenth president. Abraham Lincoln was a famous president who is still talked about today."

Matthew Smith, Granite City "I am also happy that George Bush won the election because he has taken very good care of the United States of America. I'm happy because he has taken everything so nice. And I hope he wins the next election."

Tallin Curran, Granite City "My favorite president is Abraham Lincoln. The reason I like him is because he freed the slaves. He was an honest man. And that is why I like Abraham Lincoln, the sixteenth president of the United States."

Stephanie Pupillo, Granite City

"My favorite president is Abraham Lincoln. He was always honest. But he did like to play tricks on people. Abe wasn't rich and he wasn't too handsome. He worked very hard. He was the sixteenth president and he was the best president."

Ronald Wilkerson, Granite City

"My favorite president is George Washington. He was an honest man. George was born Feb. 22, 1732. He died on Dec. 14, 1799. When he was president he did not get to live in the White House. It was not finished. His wife was Martha. George was a chief in the Revolutionary War."

Andrea Schultz, Granite City

"My favorite president is Abraham Lincoln. Because he is a kind man, he didn't think people should have slaves. I think all of the kids in my class agree that people shouldn't have slaves. Abe Lincoln made it so nobody could have slaves. That's why he is my favorite president."

Jacob Peeler

Jacob W. Peeler, 73, of Granite City, formerly of Madison died at 7:30 a.m. on Wednesday, Feb. 26, 1992, at his residence.

Mr. Peeler was born Aug. 18, 1918, in Milan, Tenn., and resided in Granite City for 17 years. He worked as an insulator for Monsanto Co. for 33 years, retiring Dec. 1, 1981. He was a member of St. John Lutheran Church, and a World War II Navy veteran.

Survivors include his wife, Bertha Peeler, whom he married March 12, 1937, in St. Charles, Mo.; one son, Ricky Peeler of Granite City; two daughters, Darlene Marks of Creal Springs, Ill., and Judy Fowler of Collinsville; two sisters, Opal King of St. Charles, Mo., and Zelma Caldwell of Woodson Terrace, Mo.; eight grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his parents Pink and Pattie (Jacobs) Peeler.

His wife passed away in the scheduled events are in this area, reducing the hauling chore, William said.

Such cities as Belleville, Springfield, Ill., Springfield, Mo., Peoria and Chicago have hosted events for Taurus, he said.

"To me, any event that is within a 300- or 400-mile radius is close," he commented.

William, his wife, Susie, and usually one other worker travel around the country keeping up the championship competition.

His wife appears to like the excitement and adventure of monster truck racing, he said.

"I've been married now for four years, and she still likes the business," he said.

I use my bicycles and motorcycles, so she's used to it now. She doesn't just go along for the ride, but we work together dealing with the business aspect of my job."

It's takes more than an aggressive truck driver to be a monster truck champion driver, William said.

"It's more a business aspect to the job. You deal with the public and the building people, and you have to know how to treat the people you work for.

"You have to have common sense and good awareness, and stay open-minded whether you hear hoos or cheers.

"We're on the road a lot, but I really enjoy what I do."

He said that success in the 1991 Monster Truck Championship Series near the end of the year kept his spirits high.

The Taurus was again leading the pack this year until encountering a few bad finishes in the last two weeks.

"We're now five or 10 points behind, in second place, but we are having another successful year and it just seems to be getting better."

The crowds coming out to watch the monster trucks continue to grow, he said, adding that television on the ESPN and TNN cable networks has helped increase awareness of the sport.

"The business has not reached its potential," his father said.

"But it feeds their families and is getting busier each and every year."

The 1991 expense to operate the two trucks nationally reached $300,000, Jack Sr. said.

"We've been fortunate financially to this point, but you never know how long it will last without a sponsor," he said, adding that their corporate sponsor last year, General Foods, has now dropped the sport.

"We used to simply do exhibitions where the driver would be out there on his own, performing the stunt he could do best," William Jr. said. "Now you have competition next to you and it takes a good eye and good reactions."

Each truck and racer build their own reputation among the other drivers.

Because the handlers and dogs are certified, Johnson said, the evidence will hold up in court even though the handler is not a law enforcement officer.

Alderman Michael Terrell, who is a state policeman, said the search and forfeiture procedure is not as simple as Johnson made it sound, but agreed that it would be worthwhile for Police Chief James Bennett to talk to Johnson.

Alderman Silver Franklin, chairman of the police committee, said he believed the program should be discussed with the police chief and the committee and that the committee would then bring a recommendation to the council.

26-0 Warriors handle Edwardsville, Terriers to claim 1st sectional

By Mike Kelly
Staff writer

The Warriors didn't have too many problems nailing down their first sectional championship Tuesday.

Granite City charged past Edwardsville 36-23 in the semifinals before staving off a stubborn Carbondale squad 31-19 in the title match to capture the Bethalto Sectional and qualify for the team state tournament for the first time.

The Warriors (26-0, No. 6 in the state) will face LaGrange (25-1, No. 2 in the state) in the state quarterfinals Saturday at 11 a.m. at Redbird Arena in Normal (see related story).

Carbondale was within three points before Chris Hoffstot (140 pounds) and Jerry Heuschman (145) made back-to-back pins for a 15-point margin. The Terriers (17-3) closed the gap to 25-17, but Jeff Heuschman (189) pinned Eric Chappell to end the suspense.

"Our kids kept their composure," Granite City coach Mike Garland said. "We've been preaching that all season. Never get too high or too low. Controlling your emotions is so important in this sport. It could pay off in a big way during a match. In our case, it paid off in the biggest match of the year."

It's the first trip to state for the Warriors as a team since the team dual meet format was established in 1984.

"I'm not worried about that match right now," Garland said about Saturday. "I just want to savor the moment. It feels great to be the first team to represent the school and the community at the state tournament."

Coach (BHL) Schmitt had some great teams during his tenure. Had this format been in existence when he was coaching, he probably would have had a team up there every year. But to accomplish something like this in front of him (Schmitt attended Tuesday's meet) is an honor."

Unfortunately, Granite City's most important victory of the season was nearly ruined by a brawl at the end of the match. Damian James of Carbondale, who was involved in a heated match with Mark McKechan at 135 pounds, tried to start a fight with McKechan after the dual was over.

No. 2 LaGrange awaits in quarterfinal

By Mike Kelly
Staff writer

Are the Warriors for real?

They'll find out Saturday in the state quarterfinals at Redbird Arena in Normal. Granite City (26-0, sixth in the state) will face its stiffest challenge to date when it takes on LaGrange at 11 a.m.

The Lions (25-1, No. 2 in the state) are considered heavy favorites. But like Granite City, the Lions — who defeated Maine West 47-12 and Chicago Gordon Tech 45-12 in the LaGrange tournament on Tuesday — are also making their first trip to state.

Probably the most impressive of the lot is Lepai, who has

Mark King. "But I don't buy this heavy favorite stuff. Just because we're from Chicago doesn't mean we're going to walk away with the match. Granite City is undefeated. That tells me they've got something."

State preview

But the Lions have some hefty weapons of their own. They had eight wrestlers at the individual state tournament last weekend and three of them — Matt Zeman (135 pounds), Jay Nichols (171) and Will Lepai (275) were place winners.

Probably the most impressive of the lot is Lepai, who has signed a national letter of intent to play football at Illinois next fall. He's won two state championships and lost only one match in two years.

"If there's a difference between us and Granite City, it's the competition we've faced," said King. "A lot of our kids have gone up against top-notch wrestlers all season."

But King respects southern Illinois.

"I got to see a lot of wrestlers from your area last week (in Champaign), and I was impressed," he said. "Those people could hold their own in Chicago. It's just a case of not facing that solid competition on

Madison ousts Venice in final seconds

By Dave Whaley

The game was what the Madison-Venice rivalry is all about.

Back and forth the whole way, it was tied into the final 15 seconds. Ronnie Williams scored off Cernyn Macon's inbound pass with 12 seconds left, then the Red Devils missed three shots in the final four seconds as the Trojans escaped with a 51-49 win in the Freeburg Regional semifinals.

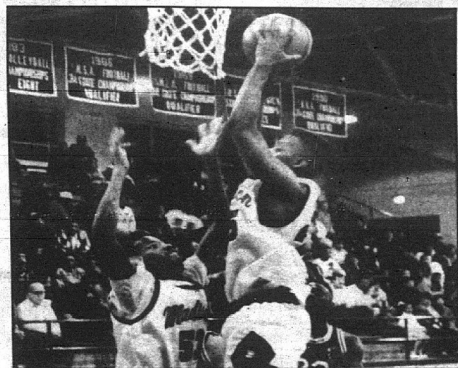

Madison (16-11) won its fifth straight game and will face host Freeburg (21-5) for the regional championship Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Marcus Franklin inbounded the ball to Ben McIntyre, who threw up a quick shot from 12 feet out. It missed, and Jimmy Wellmaker's putback was no good, as was McIntyre's final tip. For the first time in seven years, the Devils were finished at 14-13) will not play in the regional finals.

"Those were the longest four seconds," said Trojan coach Al Collins. "I thought they had about five rebounds or maybe they forgot to stop the clock. I never did hear the buzzer."

For the Red Devils, the game was a microcosm of a frustrating season.

"It boils down to fundamentals," said coach Clinton Harris, who fell well short of winning 20 games in a season something he had done in each of his previous eight years. "We made four bad passes in the last few minutes and Madison took advantage."

The Devils led by as much as 22-11 early in the second quarter, but the Trojans whittled that to 29-25 by halftime. The lead changed hands nine times in the second half. Venice took its final lead when Ivan Johnson (20 points) converted a three-point play with three minutes left for a 49-47 lead.

But Trojan senior guard Ron Lott played like the honorable mention all-state selection he was in the fourth quarter. He had eight points in the quarter,

Trojans win thriller, Devils win ugly in 1st round

By Dave Whaley

The Trojans and Red Devils set up Wednesday's showdown on Tuesday with one game that was unforgettable and one that everyone would like to forget.

In the first round of the Freeburg Class A Regional, Madison won its fourth straight with a thrilling 66-61 overtime decision over Lebanon, while Venice struggled past Lovejoy 49-36 in one of the ugliest games ever played.

Robert Weathers scored the first four points of overtime and Cernyn Macon added two free throws with five seconds left as the Trojans survived a big scare from the Greyhounds (10-14). Junior Allen Berry put on a show with 28 points, 15 rebounds and seven assists, for Lebanon, but he fouled out in overtime.

The Trojans, who led 20-4 in the first quarter, actually found themselves trailing 56-52 with 2 1/2 minutes left in regulation time. That was after a 13-0 Lebanon run, and Madison didn't score in the fourth quarter until Ron Williams (22 points) scored with 2:10 left to make it 56-54. After a Lebanon turnover and a missed shot by Berry, Weathers tied the game on two free throws with 51 seconds left.

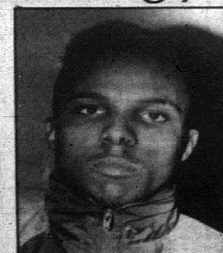

Weathers scored on two identical setups from Macon (eight assists) to start overtime, and the Trojans were able to steal the ball after both baskets. Macon inbounded to Williams, who scored and was fouled by Berry (his fifth). Williams converted the three-point play to make it 63-56 with 1:49 left.

Warriors hope for SWC draw Friday in Alton

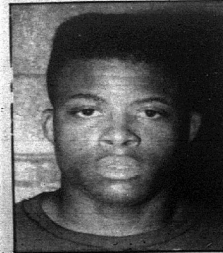

The Warrior basketball team can't afford to let its collective mind wander Friday night.

Granite City (7-2 in the Southwestern Conference, 17-7 overall) visits Alton (2-7, 10-14) on Friday for an 8 p.m. at the West Middle School gym. At the same time, East St. Louis Flyers visit Collinsville. A Warrior win and a Kahok loss would give Granite City a share of the SWC title for the first time since 1986.

But the Redbirds showed signs of life last week. They broke a long losing streak with a win over Belleville East on Friday, then made it two in a row with an upset win over Edwardsville on Saturday.

The Warriors beat Alton 60-55 on Jan. 18 in Granite City. Led by the hot shooting senior guard Drake Marshall (19 points per game), the Warriors have won five in a row and 10 of their last 12. They were only 7-5 overall and 1-2 in the conference after a 69-64 overtime home loss to Belleville West. But they have won six straight SWC games since then.

Friday's game ends the regular season. The Warriors will host Taylorville at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the first round of the Collinsville Sectional.

But Rico Weatherall banked in a three-pointer and the Greyhounds were within 64-61 in the final 30 seconds. But Weatherall missed on two more desperation three-point attempts before Macon sealed it.

"Too many mistakes," said Trojan coach Al Collins. "We probably relaxed when we got the big lead in overtime and Berry fouled out. But I always knew Lebanon was better than a 10-13 team."

Weatherall had 10 points, including the big ones at the end of regulation and the start of overtime. The 5-11 junior is a recent addition to the starting lineup since the season's opening blow injury to Eugene Williams.

"If there's a hero, it's Weatherall," said Collins. "He's in there for his quickness in defense, so any offense he adds is a bonus."

"I'm proud of the way we bounced back at the start of overtime. But we let down too often, something I thought we had gotten out of the last three games. But it's tough playing 8:30 games on back-to-back nights during the week. That's not good for the kids."

In the first game, the Red Devils made only 17 of 44 free throws, but still beat Lovejoy 2-23. It helped that the Wildcats made only 16 of 73 shots from the floor (22 percent). Guard Steve Jones was 4 of 16.

Venice was only 16 of 46 from the floor.

including the tying basket with 2:20 left. Venice turned it over the next two times down and Madison finally took advantage. Marcus Franklin blocked Williams' shot out of bounds with 15 seconds left. But Macon sealed it right back in to Williams for the reverse layup that won the game.

"We were supposed to throw it out and hold it for about eight seconds," said Collins. "But it came down to who had the best blessings at the end, and we did."

The Trojans have a shot at the Midgits, who struggled to beat a 4-21 Althoff team 78-73 in Wednesday's first semifinal. The Devils, meanwhile, have to bounce back in a big way next year. Two starters, Raynard Sherrod and Cedric Wiley, quit the team Tuesday night.

But the incident, which nearly got some fans involved, was broken up before anything serious happened.

"It's unfortunate something like that had to happen," Garland said. "But things get tense during this time of the season. It was a tough match between two hard-nosed kids."

Speaking of hard-nosed kids, Hofstet, Jerry Heubachman and Ryan King bounced back from their disappointing weekend at the individual state tournament with impressive victories.

"I was a little concerned about those guys," Garland said. "Not placing at state took its toll on them, but they wanted another chance to redeem themselves."

The most impressive showing, though, was turned in by freshman Tim Fulkerson. Pressed into duty when Jason Morelino missed the match due to a death in his family, Fulkerson (103) pinned Tim McGinnis in 24 seconds to open the Carbondale match.

Pat Scheffer, fifth in the state at 103, moved up to 119 and King moved to 125.

"That shows how winning can be contagious," Garland said. "Tim hadn't wrestled on the varsity all season, but he comes through for us in the biggest match of the season."

"This just shows that Granite City is the elite team in southern Illinois," said Carbondale coach Dennis Ragan. "They deserve going to state. They have a balanced lineup. There isn't a weak spot from top to bottom."

Biason's weekend plans derailed by Storm

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

Scott Biason might not miss his own wedding, but he just had to pass on the nuptials for one of his best friends.

Old high school buddy Brent Cook was married Saturday in Peoria, but Biason had to beg off at the last minute. He had a professional soccer career to begin. Biason's signing with the St. Louis Storm of the Major Soccer League on Friday afternoon created somewhat of a dilemma, but it was easy to solve.

"Everyone understood when I said I couldn't make the wedding," said Biason.

Biason is a 1986 graduate of Granite City High School and got a bachelor's degree in communications from Western Illinois University last year. Terms of Biason's contract weren't announced, but it's safe to assume he hasn't moved into Bobby Bonilla's tax bracket.

"I've got a full-time job here in town with Central Bank," said Biason. "And I want to keep that. They've been fantastic with me. I hope I can work something out with them to work around my schedule with the Storm."

Biason was quick to credit his high school coach, Gene Baker, for his soccer success. Baker was happy to see another of his former players succeeding.

"Scott is good enough to succeed at that level, and evidently the Storm felt that way, too," said Baker. "They were some pretty good players available to sign, but they chose him."

"I really feel good for Scott. He started coming to my camp when he was 8 and he's always been a dedicated player. He keeps himself in great shape and he's a stickler on defense."

Scott Biason is finally in a Storm uniform, although he says he'll eventually wear No. 3.

Biason, a 1985 all-state defender for the Warriors, saw his first MSL action as a defensive specialist Friday and Sunday. He hopes to be back in the lineup when the Storm host Cleveland on Friday at the St. Louis Arena (7:30 p.m.) and travel to Wichita on Sunday. The team has 16 players on the roster, but only 14 dress for each game. "I probably won't know until just before game time if I'm in the lineup," Biason said.

He also has quickly becoming involved in making promotional appearances for the team and the league, both of which are in a constant fight for survival.

Biason played one exhibition game for the Storm in Wichita in October. He had been in training camp and had practiced periodically with the team much of the season, but didn't sign until Friday.

"I was excited to get out there and I was just a little nervous," he said. "But I kind of thought all along that I would get signed, so I had had time to prepare for it."

"I clicked well with the guys in the pre-season, and I've gotten along with them very well. It's just amazing to be out there with players like Preki, Branko Segota and Daryl Doran."

Another teammate is Ted Eck, whom he played with at WIU. Biason has probably as much indoor soccer experience as anyone in Granite City.

"I was there with a bunch of my buddies the first day Soccer For Fun opened," he said. "We were there watching them lay down the carpet, then they were done, we went out and were the first ones to play there."

Biason's uncles Kenny and John Prazma also played for Baker, as did his sister Angela. His contract with the Storm (10-19) is for the rest of the season, which has 11 games remaining. The Storm trail Tacoma by four games for the league's final playoff spot.

King said he was impressed with Warrior 103-pounder Pat Scheffer, who finished fifth.

"I don't know if our 103-pounder (senior Peter Jung) can be placed in the same class with Scheffer," he said. "Pete went to state, but he was eliminated in his first match. That will be the key match. I'm real concerned with that matchup."

"Their unbeaten record has our attention. We're definitely not looking past Granite City."
